By OVID A. MARTIN

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Advocates of a bolder federal approach to civil rights proposed today a plank certain to draw bitter opposition of Southerners on the Democratic convention platform committee.

Thirty related organizations—banded together as the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights—joined hands to lay the explosive issue before the party platform drafters.

The plank called for strong action by the federal government to guarantee equality to all Americans in voting, education, employment, housing and other areas.

Two Southern senator members of the committee—Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and Spessard L. Holland of Florida—declared their intention to battle against broadened federal activity in this field.

The recent outcropping of sit-in strikes at lunch counters was injected into the committee proceedings by the civil rights group and by a Southern Negro lawyer, the Rev. Martin Luther King.

The leadership conference declared this strikes—which it said have been engaged in by Negroes and whites alike—have given the nation a sharp reminder that the pace toward equality has been too slow.

Efforts were being made behind the scenes to head off a battle within the committee—and possibly the convention itself—over the issue that has plagued recent Democratic conventions.

Carl Rice, veteran Kansas Democratic leader and platform committee member, suggested that the party's 1956 civil rights plank be dusted off and revised in the light of recent developments. He said it should carry a promise that a new Democratic president

Kennedy Foes Claim He Has Been Blocked

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The vital votes of California apparently still are beyond the first ballot reach of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts at the Democratic National Convention.

His supporters reportedly failed today in their attempt to persuade Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California to step aside as California's favorite son candidate before the balloting begins in Los Angeles next week.

The Kennedy people want Brown to come out for their man. The capture of much of California's 81 votes by Kennedy, they feel, might stampede a first ballot victory for the senator.

The pressure on Brown was described as terrific. It came both from Kennedy supporters and from supporters of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and Adlai Stevenson. They want Brown to hold on and perhaps prevent Kennedy from winning on the first ballot.

Meanwhile, half-page advertisements in metropolitan newspapers heralded a nationwide drive to draft Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for the Republican nomination.

William M. Brinton, national chairman, announced the opening of headquarters in San Francisco Wednesday.

In New York, Rockefeller and Charles H. Percy, chairman of the Republican platform committee, met for three hours Wednesday to discuss political issues.

Nixon came under attack Wednesday from the Democratic Digest, a party publication. It said the U2 spy plane incident exploded what it called the myth that Nixon attends high policy meetings in the administration.

In Los Angeles, the Democratic platform committee heard a plea today for a older federal approach to civil rights. The Leadership Conference on Civil Rights—an association of 39 organizations—made the plea.

Top Award Presented to Local Firm

Ford Motor Company's highest dealer honor — the Ten Year Four-Letter Award — has been presented to Hope Auto Company.

The special award presentation was made to Frank McLarty, president, and Thomas McLarty, vice president, by L. T. Warriner, Memphis District sales manager for Ford Division. City officials, civic and business leaders attended the ceremony held at Burlew Hotel last night.

The occasion marked the 10th consecutive year that the Hope Ford dealership has received the coveted Four-Letter Award. The awards are made annually to Ford dealers who have consistently maintained high standards of quality representation, with special emphasis on service to the community.

The dealership received a handsome bronze plaque bearing the engraved signature of Henry Ford II, president of the company. In addition, members of dealership management accepted miniatures of the plaque in the form of lapel pins.

Receiving the pins were the two McLarty's; W. L. Tate, general manager; Andrew Colwell, service manager; and Charles Harrell, parts manager.

The Hope Ford dealership was appointed in July, 1921, and Thomas McLarty was named general manager in 1926, later becoming president. He served in that capacity until April, 1953, when his son, Frank, took over the presidency. The younger McLarty also is president of McLarty Ford, Inc., Texarkana, Ark.

Active in civic affairs, Frank McLarty is president of the Hope Rotary Club, the Hemphill County Industrial Fund and a director of the Citizens National Bank of Hope. He is a past president of Hope Chamber of Commerce.

In June of this year he was elected to represent fellow dealers in the Southwest at a National Ford Dealer Council held in Dearborn, Mich.

He and his wife, Helen, live at 1200 South Main in Hope.

I Killed, 17 Missing in Blimp Crash

By RUSSELL H. MULLEN

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — A huge Navy blimp crumpled in the air on a search mission Wednesday and crashed "like a sagging banana" into the ocean off the New Jersey coast.

One airman was killed and 17 feared lost in the sunken wreck age.

Three crewmen survived. They were picked up by several boats under sunny skies.

The Navy said it was mystified as to the cause of the disaster.

One of the survivors said a helium line may have ruptured causing the sausage-like bag to collapse.

The Doris May III reached the scene three minutes after the 403-foot blimp fell limply into the water.

"It looked like a sagging banana. Then it crumpled and came down in a hurry," said Frank Mikuletzky, 19, of Barnegat Light, a mate aboard the fishing vessel.

He jumped overboard with a life ring and pulled survivors from the floating wreckage.

The blimp had been out on a search patrol for the 40-foot sloop Vut 68, reported missing with a crew of seven or eight on her way home from the Newport, R.I., to Bermuda sailboat race last month.

Ironically the yacht was found safe by a Navy submarine at almost the same moment the huge blimp radioed the international distress call "May Day, May Day."

"Those were the only words heard from the blimp, one of four of the ZZPG3W class, the largest blimp in the world.

Grappling efforts begin today to retrieve the wreckage which sank in an undetermined depth.

Leftist Riots Threaten Civil War in Italy

By EUGENE LEVIN

ROME (AP) — Italy's political left leadership today threatened to plunge the nation into civil war.

The threat came as police in this ancient capital braced for more Communist vs. Fascist trouble after a wild night of rioting in the streets and fistfights in Parliament.

In the worst week of disorders since early postwar days, nearly 500 leftist demonstrators have been injured in fighting from Genoa down to Sicily. More than 200 police have been hurt—135 of them in Rome Wednesday night.

Sen. Emilio Lussu, a pro-Communist Socialist leader, told a tumultuous Senate session that if Premier Fernando Tambroni's Christian Democratic government does not resign it will turn into "a government of civil war."

But Giuseppe Pignatelli, a Christian Democrat, replying to Communist charges of police brutality, shouted defiantly: "Clubs are not enough. Tanks are needed."

A wave of general strikes called by leftists began to hit every major city in Italy.

Rome was under a general strike from 1 p. m. until midnight, called by the Chamber of Labor protesting police action against the rioters.

Half a dozen other major cities were similarly affected. More strikes were called in others by the Red-controlled Italian Federation of Labor. Non-Communist unions labeled the strikes political and refused to join them.

Rome looked like an armed camp.

No Return From ABDC Bankruptcy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Stockholders in the bankrupt Arkansas Bank and Commerce Development Corp. learned yesterday that they probably will lose their entire $41,500 investment.

The information was passed along at a hearing before Lee Cawort Sr., federal referee in bankruptcy. The meeting was called to inform ABDC's 1,700 stockholders about the financial condition of the company.

Stockholders named Ike Murry, a Little Rock attorney, as trustee to handle liquidation of the firm. Cawort had named Murry receiver for ABDC properties when he declared the firm bankrupt.

D. D. Panich, an attorney representing Murry, indicated law suits may be initiated against former officers of ABDC and Lenders Service Co., Inc., a subsidiary also declared bankrupt.

Murry said about 150 persons who invested $374,489 in ABDC's secured earnings plan may be able to recover part of their money. But he said it was doubtful if any of the firm's stockholders or creditors would recover anything.

Methodist Bishops Are Changed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two Methodist bishops leave Little Rock today and another arrives tomorrow night.

Bishop Paul E. Martin is going to Houston, Tex., to take charge of the Houston Area of the Methodist Church, and Bishop Aubrey G. Walton is going to New Orleans to head the Louisiana Area.

Bishop W. Kenneth Pope comes here from Houston to head the church in Arkansas.

The changes were voted at a recent jurisdictional conference in San Antonio, Tex.

Martin has been bishop for both Arkansas and Louisiana since 1944 with headquarters at Little Rock.

The conference divided the two state territory and assigned a bishop to each state.

Both Walton and Pope were elected bishops at the conference.

Walton, pastor of the First Methodist Church here since 1941, was assigned to Louisiana, and Pope, who has been at Houston since 1949, was assigned to Arkansas.

Walton's successor at First Methodist pastor has not been named.

Pope will preach his first Arkansas sermon as bishop at First Methodist Church on July 17.

Martin is going back to his native state. He was born at Blount, Tex., and his first pastorate was at Cedar Hill, Tex.

Castro Rages as U.S. Cuts Sugar Imports, Plans More Cutbacks

Angry Leader Doesn't Reveal Action Planned

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — The U. S. cut in imports of Cuban sugar sent Fidel Castro into a boiling rage today, but the wild-eyed Prime Minister did not disclose immediately what American property he intend to seize next in retaliation.

Flaming with anger, Castro appealed to other Latin-American nations to rally behind his "fight against American oligarchy." He told "workers" meeting the cutbacks ordered by President Eisenhower would not halt his left-leaning revolution and charged Eisenhower acted in a "moment of hate, degradation, insult and stupidity."

A giant labor rally has been called for Sunday in the vast plaza before the presidential palace in Havana to demonstrate "the Cuban peoples' unity in the face of Yankee aggression." Castro is expected to use his mass meeting to dramatize his announcement of how he intends to strike back at the United States with his new power to seize any American property in the "national interest."

Castro appeared at a post-midnight closing session of the Metalurgical Workers Congress only a few hours after Eisenhower had slashed 700,000 tons off Cuba's sugar quota.

In a hoarse voice, Castro declared "Cuba will show the rest of the exploited Latin-American people that Cuba can march alone — that it is possible to march ahead without you (the United States)."

He asserted the United States would gain nothing by cutting Cuba's sugar quota to "ingratiate" herself with other countries.

"At the same time you take away Cuba's quota to give to someone else," Castro declared. "You are telling them that you want them enslaved and that when they want to be free and defend their interests, you'll take the quota away from them as you did with Cuba."

Castro again accused the United States of being an "accomplice" and "prodding" on the side of Dictator Fulgencio Batista during Castro's revolution to overthrow the former president.

"You didn't increase the sugar quota then," Castro roared. "But you increased your quota of arms, planes and ammunition to kill helpless civilians and children."

The next stop will be at the Station Headquarters located about four miles northeast of Hope off Highway 67, where Dr. Spooner will discuss the pasture plots.

A tour of the Pasture plots and cattle demonstrations are the final items on the afternoon program. Representatives of Owen Brothers' Stockyard of Texarkana and Sutton Livestock Commission of Hope will demonstrate differences in feeder calves produced by high and low quality feed.

Dr. John W. White, University vice-president for agriculture, will be main speaker for the evening program.

The Cotton Visiting Day will be held July 22. It begins at 1 p. m. at the Southwest Station headquarters when J. C. Hunter, junior entomologist, and Dr. B. A. Wade, agronomist, will tell about research with boll weevil resistant lines of cotton.

Visitors will then drive to the blackland cotton trials located about five miles northeast of the station. At the site, Dr. G. W. Hardy, associate agronomist, will discuss timing of nitrogen applications and sources of nitrogen for cotton. Charles Hughes, assistant agronomist, will explain the commercial variety tests.

The program will wind up around 3 p. m. Butte said.

Cotton and Cattle Day at Hope Station

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

People interested in the Arkansas cattle and cotton industries are invited to separate study days for each commodity this month at the University of Arkansas Southwest Branch Experiment Station at Hope, reports C. M. Butte, assistant director in charge.

The Cattlemen's Visiting Day is set for July 19. It will commence at 1:30 p. m. at the Miller county pasture research plots located five miles west of Garland City on Highway 32. Dr. M. S. Offutt, agronomist, and Dr. A. E. Spooner, associate agronomist, will discuss the pasture research underway there.

The next stop will be at the Station Headquarters located about four miles northeast of Hope off Highway 67, where Dr. Spooner will discuss the fertilizer studies on the Station pasture plots.

Continuing on to the experimental plots on land leased from Ned Potts, Drs. Offutt and Spooner will cover work with lespedeza and alfalfa varieties and pasture plots.

A tour of the Pasture plots and cattle demonstrations are the final items on the afternoon program. Representatives of Owen Brothers' Stockyard of Texarkana and Sutton Livestock Commission of Hope will demonstrate differences in feeder calves produced by high and low quality feed.

Peach Festival Organizer Dies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Robbie Taylor Landtrip of Ludwig, who helped organize the Johnson County Peach Festival in 1959, died here yesterday after a short illness. She was 70.

Funeral services are scheduled tomorrow at Ludwig. Mrs. Landtrip and her husband, the late A. V. Landtrip, operated a peach orchard at Ludwig for 49 years.

Her grandfather, J. J. Taylor, planted Johnson County's first peach trees in 1886.

Survivors include a son, Taylor Landtrip of Ludwig.

Reduction to Cost Cubans $35 Millions

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is considering new moves against the Castro government of Cuba to follow up the costly cutbacks ordered by President Eisenhower in Cuban sugar sales to this country.

Eisenhower decreed late Wednesday a reduction of 700,000 tons in the Cuban sugar quota, thereby almost eliminating it for the rest of this year. The estimated loss to Cuba in U.S. sugar subsidies is around 35 million dollars.

Actually, sugar authorities said, the cut amounts to 800,000 tons, because the law under which Eisenhower acted also takes from Cuba a 150,000-ton extra quota Cuba would have gotten under the old law.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl "Pat" Benson was ordered to buy sugar from other sources to make up the deficit. Officials said there are now ample supplies of raw sugar available for purchase, especially in Brazil and the Philippines, and neither a shortage nor an increase in price here is expected.

Eisenhower said the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro "has embarked upon a deliberate policy of hostility toward the United States." He declared this made Cuba an unreliable supplier of major food products, especially with Cuba committing "enormous amounts of its sugar crop to trade with the Communist bloc."

While the reason thus stated for his action was primarily economic—that is, the uncertainty of the U.S. sugar supply from Cuba—the effect of reducing the sales quota is the same as if the action had been taken for political reasons.

The significance of the stated cause is that to take such action for a political purpose would constitute an economic sanction which by treaty the United States can take only upon agreement with other American countries.

Such sanctions, however, are now considered entirely possible assuming that, as authorities here expect Castro continues to follow a course of increasing hostility toward neighboring states.

New moves under consideration at the State Department include:

1. A request to other Latin American countries for concerted action against Castro, perhaps through a meeting of foreign ministers of the Organization of American States.

2. A further slash in future Cuban sugar sales to the United States under authority already given the President of Congress for the first three months of 1961.

3. New congressional action on the sugar quota allocation which could have the effect of permanently reducing Cuba's position in the U.S. sugar market.

would provide more positive leadership in this field than he said has been shown by President El-enhower.

The 1956 plank pledged the party to continuation of efforts to end racial discrimination in all sections of the country, but rejected proposals for use of federal force to bring this about.

Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, platform chairman, said he probably would undertake drafting of a plank designed to placate both sides, insofar as that is possible. He has indicated, however, anything he writes would be more sweeping proposals than the 1956 plank.

So far in the committee's open hearing on the platform, emphasis has been on domestic issues, such as medical care for the aged, aid to education, domestic employment and economic growth and aid to agriculture.

Nevertheless the foreign policy issue — described by Bowles as the most important one facing voters this year — was brought to the floor Wednesday by Americans for Democratic Action.

Prof. Samuel H. Beer of Harvard University, national chairman of this group called for a foreign policy that would give this country what he called a "relatless diplomatic initiative" in a drive to stabilize peace. He said policy limited largely to deterrence of military action by communist was not enough.

Religious Sect Stays in Bomb Shelter

BENSON, Ariz. (AP) — About 100 members of a small religious sect remained in their underground bomb shelters today awaiting what they say is a prophesied nuclear attack.

Members of the Full Gospel Assembly took refuge in the shelters beneath their homes on the outskirts of this small southern Ariz.

zona town Monday night.
 After pondering what to do about the situation for more than a day and a half, authorities Wednesday broke into the hiding place of several members of the sect.

Armed with search warrants,
 they kicked open the rear door of one of the houses and found a trap door in the floor of a closet in the master bedroom.

The trap door was lifted, revealing another trap door, locked from below. Persistent knocking brought an answer from the head of the house, Glenn Scott, 36.

Peering up at the officers from his 10-foot-deep, concrete lined shelter, the annoyed Scott said:
 "I'll tell you why we are here.
 We are doing what the government has told everyone to do taking an active part in civil defense preparation."

Scott said that he and his friends expect the Soviet Union to launch an atomic attack against the United States within the next few days.

This, he indicated, was revealed by divine prophecy.
 "All of us are in good health," he said. "If we are not out by Saturday, you can look in every house you want."

"It was the only thing we could do," said City Atty. Fred Talmadge. "At least two husbands were concerned about their families who are inside the shelters.
 We had to find out what this was all about."

Talmadge later said he was satisfied with his investigation and ordered police to maintain barricades around the homes to prevent vandalism and burglaries.

Negro Girl Raped by 5 Negro Boys

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Police

 night.

Two Negro boys walking nearby fled.

Gunman Gets $60,000 in Bank Holdup

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Three gunmen dressed as housepainters seized an estimated $60,000 today in a holdup of the Cherokee State Bank.

After calmly waiting more than an hour for the timelock to go off, turning a gun on each employee who entered the building, they looted the vault, teller's boxes and night depository.

A short time later a white 1952 model panel truck was found abandoned in an alley five blocks from the bank. Police said it may have been the getaway vehicle.

William Jordan, bank cashier, estimated nearly $60,000 was taken. The gunman got about $732,000 from the vault, the rest from teller's boxes and the depository.

The trio waited until a woman employee opened the building shortly before 7 a.m. and then bided their time for the lock as five others of the bank staff came in one by one.

At 8:10 a.m. the timelock ran out, permitting the vault to be dialed open. The robbers ordered Jordan to open the vault and one of them went in with the cashier.

Mrs. Williams Entertains

One of the loveliest parties of the season was given by Mrs. Al Gray, Mrs. Williams when she entertained with a brunch-bridge at her home on Friday morning.

Arrangements of gladioli, daisies and zinnias were placed on various tables in the living room. On the mantel blue hydrangeas complimented the decor of the room. The tables were centered with vases of gar-denias for the brunch.

Mrs. J. H. Bernis won the high score prize.
 Other guests included Mrs. Jack Robey, Mrs. Dallas Atkins, Mrs.
 S. B. Scott, Mrs. Saxon Regan,
 Mrs. Tim Nelson, Mrs. Guss
 McCaskill, Mrs. Frank Halton,
 Mrs. Mark Jussias, Mrs.
 Frank Turberville, Mrs. D. L. Mc-Rae Jr., Mrs. Darrell Marsh.

Arraignment is set for July 16 before U.S. District Judge R. Dorsey Watkins. Rees will be kept in the Baltimore city jail.

Rees had been held in Memphis under $50,000 bail on a federal charge of flight to avoid prosecution in the slaying of a young mother, Margaret V. Harold, a Ft.
 Meade, Md. clerk. Recently, Dis-

SERVING MORE PEOPLE ... BETTER

Old Age Assistance, Other Welfare Grants GREATLY EXPANDED

The phrase, "Serving More People . . . Better", adequately depicts the role of the State Welfare Department under the able guidance of Governor Faubus' administration. There have been increased benefits, additions to the grants and a larger area of operation—all at the smallest possible cost to the people of the State of Arkansas.

In 1937, an average monthly grant of $9.37 was made available to 24,623 recipients, while by January of 1955, when Governor Faubus assumed office, the average Old Age Assistance grant had been increased to $33.82. Today the average monthly grant is $55.22, distributed to 55,916 recipients. In addition to the increased welfare grants for the people, Governor Faubus' administration instituted a plan by which recipients could add to their incomes and still be eligible for the Old Age Assistance grants. Also, persons receiving grants are now eligible for medical care (including hospitalization), nursing home care and remedial eye service—another first for Arkansas welfare recipients under the Faubus administration.

With respect to the increased efficiency of the State Welfare Department, the grants for dependent children have been carefully reconstructed. Under a law passed in 1957, mothers of illegitimate children who were using the dependent children's grant to increase their total welfare grants, were eliminated. This enabled the welfare program for dependent children to decrease the total number of recipients and at the same time increase the amount of each grant—making the program more effective for those who really need the assistance.

In line with the policies of Governor Faubus' administration insisting upon the highest degree of efficiency in operations, administrative costs of operating the welfare department are the lowest of any welfare department in the United States.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Torn Between Duty and Love

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

Eight years ago at the age of 16, I married against my parents' wishes. My husband was intelligent but I tried to make the best of things. Last year I filed for divorce. We had no children. My husband became ill. I returned to him feeling it my duty to try again. Believe me, that was a terrible decision.

During my separation I met the man I should have waited for. I never dreamed it possible to feel like this towards another man being. My decision to return to my husband hurt him deeply, but he agreed that I alone knew in my heart what I had to do. My husband recovered. I told him about the other man. He says the only thing he envies about is that I'm there with him. Before I didn't know what I was missing. Now I have nothing. Each day proves worse. My husband says that if I leave he will kill me — or himself. The last thing I want to do is to make anyone unhappy but I can't spend the rest of my life living with a person (though a sense of pity I don't think it fair to either of us. Since it is impossible to receive a reply at home, will you let me know what you think through your column? — Troubled Dear Dorothy: Yours is indeed a difficult problem and the final decision must be made in your own conscience. Despite the fact that you were only 16 when you made your vows, you did promise to love and cherish. The fact that you returned to your husband when he needed you shows that your love is not entirely dead. You describe your husband as a weak man. You must ask yourself whether your opinion has been biased by needing the other man. And the final answer can come not from other people, but from me, but from your own heart.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

My 14-year-old daughter is so unhappy that she wishes she were dead. When in the sixth grade she was very popular but most of her friends grew up more quickly than she. In the seventh and eighth grades she hasn't seemed to click. She is not beautiful, but attractive, does well in school, loves to dance and likes all sports. I have taught her to be kind and tactful.

Recently she was invited to two parties and each time came home and cried herself to sleep. She says no one asks her to dance and no one likes her. Day by day she becomes more shy and withdrawn. I must find some way to help her. This is heart-breaking for me as well as her. — Mrs. W.

Dear Mrs. W.: Some young girls find adolescence hard to take. Without any apparent reason, they are transformed from happy, normal children into super-sensitive, highly emotional and self-conscious teen-agers. Your daughter has suddenly become a girl—woman, not little girl without understanding why. I believe my letter "Sex Education for the Teen-Agers" may help her. It does to your boy. Also included are "On Being Popular," "Making Conversations and 'Are You Sensitive?'"

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: I am a steady reader and have found your information quite helpful. I would appreciate having much of it you would please send me the leaflet entitled "Color in Teen-Agers." — Beverly Ann Weaver

Dear Beverly Ann: I would gladly do so but, alas, you printed your address. Forward and stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her here at this newspaper.

Said your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her here at this newspaper.

Palmer Bids for Golf's Triple Crown

By JOHN FARROW

Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Arnold Palmer, bidding for golf's triple crown, today cocked a wary eye over his shoulder at two pacesetting South Americans. Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., already has won the American Open and Masters, he needs the British title to complete the big three.

All the experts forecast that defending champion Gary Player of South Africa and Peter Thomson, a fourtime winner of this championship first played 100 years ago, would be Palmer's biggest rivals.

They may still turn out to be exactly that—but Robert De Vicenzo, an Argentinean playing out of Mexico, and Fidel De Luca of Argentina were the men worrying the American champion as 74 players were into the second round of the 72-hole championship over the Old Course.

De Vicenzo, a three-stroke lead over Palmer with the first round of 67. De Luca, 31, and runnerup in the Argentinean championship, was second in the field with a 69.

The field of 74 will be cut to a maximum of 50 low scorers at the end of today. De Vicenzo led the field at the end of the first day with a 67. De Luca and Kel Nagle of Australia both had 68s.

Palmer, Ken Bousfield of England, Peter Shanks of England, and Scottish amateur David Blair of Scotland all had 70s. Peter Mills of England had 71. At 72 were Gary Player, South Africa, Peter Thomson, Australia, Leopoldo Ruiz, Argentinean British Amateur champion Joe Carr of Ireland, Harold Henning of South Africa, Jose Maria Gonzalez of Brazil, Ralph Moffitt of England, George Low of England, Angel Miguel of Spain, amateur A. G. Munro of England, Bernard Hunt of England and James Martin of Scotland.

Daley Is First Hurler to Win Twelve Games

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southpaw Bud Daley, who won 16 with seventh place Kansas City in his first full season last year, figured he still had to win respect from American League hitters.

That was four months ago, in spring training.

Now he's won respect and just about everything else in sight—still pitching for the seventh place A's but leading the majors with 12 victories and a cinch to be the starting pitcher in Monday's All-Star game.

Daley (12-4) made it a dozen with a six-hitter for a 6-4 decision over Detroit Wednesday night.

Whitely Ford won his third in a row as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 5-2 and regained a two-game lead over Cleveland. The Chicago White Sox ended the Indians' winning string at five with a 7-5 decision on Roy Sievers' two-run homer in the ninth. And Washington whipped Boston Sox with a four-hitter on his second major league start. He walked two, fanned six. The Nats got their four in the first inning.

burgh rolled 6½ games in front by leading Cincinnati 5-2. Philadelphia defeated second place Milwaukee 4-5 in 10 innings. Los Angeles walloped third place San Francisco. Chicago's Cubs topped St. Louis 10-1.

Jerry Lumpe's second RBI double broke a 4-4 tie for the A's in the eighth, and he came home with the clincher on a wild pitch by Frank Lary. Daley gave up a three-run homer by Al Kaline in the sixth. The Tigers' other run was unearned.

The Yankees handed Oriole right-hander Skinny Brown his third defeat in 10 decisions with a two-run eighth. A walk and Mickey Mantle's triple scored the winning run, and Roger Maris, who hit his 27th home run in the third inning, then followed with a single. Cleles Boyer added a solo homer in the ninth.

Ford (6-5) had a two-hit shutout for six innings and finished with a seven-hitter. Four of the Orioles hits were for extra-bases, one a ninth-inning homer by Brooks Robinson.

Sievers' 11th homer followed a leadoff walk by losing reliever Larry Locke (1-1), who also gave up a tying homer by Gene Prosser in the eighth. Gerry Staley (9-3) won it with four innings of two-hit shutout relief after the Indians chased Early Wynn in a five-run fourth.

Kralick (4-0) lanked the Red Sox with a four-hitter on his second major league start. He walked two, fanned six. The Nats got their four in the first inning.

Calls Faubus 'Greedy' in History

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — H. E. Williams blasted the administration of Gov. Orval E. Faubus today as "the greediest in the history of the state" and expressed alarm at current spending.

The candidate for governor said taxpayers were growing disturbed over the realization that "it is costing them $2.50 today for every $1 spent ten years ago to operate the state government."

In a statement from his Little Rock campaign headquarters, Williams also heaped scorn on a current series of newspaper advertisements urging Faubus to lead a Southern bloc at the Democratic national convention.

The ads, running in the Arkansas Gazette, have been signed by non-Arkansians.

Williams viewed them as a thinly disguised attempt to sell Arkansas voters on another term for Faubus.

"Who are these mugwumps from out of the state trying to tell Arkansas to make a tragic mistake of re-electing Faubus to a lamentable fourth term?" the candidate asked.

He said "this bunch of radicals from Louisiana and South Carolina have no business in Arkansas politics trying to run velvet approvals of Mr. Faubus, which all of us think he knows full well about before they are run."

Faubus has said he knew nothing about the ads.

Williams said that if one of Faubus' four opponents in the governor's race "should be favored by an ad from heaven, he would scream bloody murder and call us the tools of subversive interests."

"But," Williams added, "you can be sure that Caesar Faubus glows over his popularity among the radicals of America."

He wondered if signers of the ads were part of "a lunatic fringe which makes up the movement of new-Facism in America," and asked: "Aren't they the same bunch of warped minds who nominated Mr. Faubus as their shining choice for the presidency to head their nondescript 'States Rights Party'?"

Williams said that if this were true, "we ought to give them Mr. Faubus and let them take him out of Arkansas and really play politics with him. He is not really a Democrat, having destroyed the Democratic Party traditions."

On the subject of spending, Williams also said "Faubusism as cost the state a gross take of $3 million dollars." He didn't elaborate on where he got this figure. But asked: "Where is all this money going?"

Williams said that if this were true, "we ought to give them Mr. Faubus and let them take him out of Arkansas and really play politics with him. He is not really a Democrat, having destroyed the Democratic Party traditions."

That sent the Pirates into a 5½ game lead, the largest of the season in the majors. They made it with a 5-2 victory over Cincinnati—breaking up Bob Purkey's two-hit shutout in a five-run eighth capped by Bob Skinner's inside-the-park grand slam home run.

The last place Chicago Cubs, with Ernie Banks hitting his 25th home run and George Altman driving in six runs with two horn-ers, whipped St. Louis 10-1. In the American League, the New York Yankees regained a two-game bulge by rapping third place Baltimore 5-2 while Chicago's White Sox beat the second place Indians 7-5. Southpaw Bud Daley became the majors' top winner with 12 as Kansas City beat Detroit 6-4. And Washington defeated Boston 4-0.

Copley (5-4), who also pitched two perfect innings of relief for the victory, hung the Braves' third straight defeat on reliever Don McMahon (2-6) with his second home run in the majors.

Tony Gonzalez also homered for the seventh-place Phils, off Bob Buhl in a two-run first inning. The Braves, who pulled off the NL's first triple play in two seasons, got a homer from Joe Adcock, but blew a 5-4 lead behind reliever Ron Piche on B. G. Smith's tying infield hit in the ninth.

Williams (8-2), named to the All-Star team today, cracked his second major league home run in the fourth inning for a 4-6 lead against loser Billy O'Dell (3-4). Purkey (8-4) shattered his shutout against his ex-mates by forcing Pittsburgh's tying run with a bases-loaded walk. Tom Cheney (1-1) gave way to a pinch-hitter in the eighth, but gained his first major league victory. Gus Bell and Ed Bailey homered for the Reds' runs.

Banks' three-run homer won for the Cubs in the second inning against Bob Gibson (1-2). Glen Hobbie (6-10) was the winner.

Counterfeit Gentleman

By Clarence Budington Kelland
THE STORY: The people of Hope, Arkansas, were startled when a man, dressed in a tuxedo, appeared in the town. He was introduced to him as Col. Semmes Bedford Beauregard and his daughter Jennifer.

Chapter X

They approached and passed Camelback Mountain with its changing colors and swung into Paradise Valley, where presently Artemus drew up before a long, low, inviting house surrounded by spacious, well-kept lawn and beautified by the blaze of color from a profusion of flowers. "This is it," Artemus said. "Classy, eh?"

They walked around the house to the pool, where the rest of the party already sat, with cologne beside them. Jack came forward to meet them and conducted them to chairs. She performed introductions.

Pomfret, in faded dungarees, cowboy boots and shirt dangling outside his trousers, stared at Artemus with open curiosity.

"Are you the Mr. Baldwin that found that dead man with his mouth full of money?"

steps. Her hair was auburn and curled tightly about her head. Artemus wondered if she could be Jack's younger sister, and then as she came closer he knew that this could not be so. She was not a little girl — she was a little woman.

"Hi, mother, Jack called, and then as Mrs. Roche approached, "Colonel Beauregard and Miss Beauregard. And Mr. Baldwin."

Mrs. Roche smiled and stopped, giving the impression of a bird perched on a twig.

"Delighted," she said, "to meet old friends of my husband." She paused and her gray eyes twinkled. "Anyone he has known more than 10 minutes is an old friend."

They disappeared into the cabana at the end of the pool. Mrs. Roche's quick eyes had appraised Artemus, to whom she had given a quick nod. He had a feeling that, in that instant, she had photographed him and catalogued him. There was a vacant chair next to the colonel, into which he dropped.

"You," the colonel was saying to Bayside, "are a painter."

"That's my trade," Bayside said. Artemus felt rather than saw the artist's eyes upon him, and sensed hostility.

"I," said the colonel, "am in a small way a patron of the arts. I should be gratified to see your work."

"And I to show it to you," Bayside said. "And you, Mr. Baldwin, are you interested in art?"

Join The Picnicking Parade

One of the greatest joys of summer is picnicking, and picnicking means good food and plenty of it. An excellent buy for the main dish is canned ham as it's easy to cook, to carry and to serve. Return the cooked ham to its can, or put it on a cutting board and wrap with aluminum foil. To go with the ham wonderfully crisp, tangy Kidney Bean and Cabbage Salad is a wise choice. Take the salad in a covered bowl with the lettuce wrapped separately. Add to the picnic basket: a jar of pimiento, cheese and olive spread, buttered bread, potato chips, brownies and chilled canned fruit juice drink.

- #### Kidney Bean and Cabbage Salad
- 2 cans (17 oz. each) red kidney beans
  - 3 1/2 cups coarsely chopped cabbage
  - 1 cup chopped sweet-sour pickle
  - 1/4 cup seeded raisins
  - 2 tablespoons minced onion
  - 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
  - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
  - 1/4 cup chili sauce
  - Salt
- Mix chilled and drained kidney beans with rest of ingredients. Add salt to taste. Twelve hearty servings.
- #### To Glaze and Bake a 6-Pound Canned Ham
- Mix 3/4 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon dry mustard and 1 tablespoon pickle juice. Pour over ham and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) about 15 minutes per pound, basting occasionally.

In Traffic Jam Going 60 Miles Hour

EDITOR'S: Effective today and continuing until the end of the Democratic National Convention, The Lighter Side column, which normally has a Washington date-line, will be written in Los Angeles.

THE LIGHTER SIDE BY DICK WEST United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — This is the only place I've ever been where a motorist can drive along at 60 miles an hour and still be in the midst of a traffic jam.

In fact, the celebrated struggle for survival on the freeway system is virtually the only thing about this fabulous city that has lived up to my expectations.

Out of state tourists may obtain a fishing license good for 14 days for $2.50, or a non-resident fishing license for the year for $5.

predilect that within 24 hours I won't have an illusion left.

My preconceptions began disintegrating into misconceptions almost as soon as I boarded an airplane in Washington to join the westward migration headed for next week's Democratic National Convention.

For one thing, I was under the impression that passengers aboard Hollywood-bound planes are always seated next to beautiful movie stars who are traveling incognito.

(Incognito, incidentally, is an old California expression which means that a celebrity is only accompanied by two press agents.)

My sentiment, however, turned out to be a dangerous member of the Maryland delegation who had a marked tendency toward attackiness.

Felt Queasy

I was beginning to feel a bit queasy myself before the plane finally landed, and I stepped down the ramp and to my second big disappointment — fresh air.

Yes, I said fresh air. When I first inhaled it I couldn't believe my nose.

It is not that I have anything against oxygen. I like to breathe as much as the next man. But I feel a little set on describing the 1960 Democratic nominee as the

Felt Dizzy

Tilting nostrils into the ozone, I filled my lungs to the bursting point, but I still couldn't feel any strong. I just felt dizzy.

It was this same taxi driver who introduced me to the Los Angeles freeways, a thrill that, for the moment at least, made me forget about movie actors and smog. In truth, I forgot about everything except a wild desire to increase my life insurance.

As I understand the situation, Los Angeles has 50 per cent more automobiles than it has parking places. This means that at least half of them must be in motion at all times. Whenever they run out of places to have traffic jams, the city builds another freeway.

Thursday, if I can survive up the courage, I plan to ride into the Convention Hall and observe the get into the political swim. But if the smog doesn't return soon, my whole visit there will be ruined.

New Type of Satellite to Be Launched

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department plans soon to launch its first communications satellite, a sphere of about 500 pounds called Courier 1A.

The satellite, more than four feet in diameter, is designed not only for instantaneous relay of radio communications from one station on the ground to another, but also for recording messages and reading them back later on command from the ground.

Courier 1A will be equipped with five tape recorders, and will be capable of storing six million bits of information.

It will be within communication range of a ground station for only a few minutes on each orbit, yet during that time it will be able to move enough traffic to occupy 20 teletype machines operating at 100 words a minute.

Courier 1A is a part of the Defense Department's project Advent, aimed to develop a global capability in this field.

The Advanced Research Projects Agency acknowledged that Courier 1A is to be launched this month, but said a July 15 firing date—mentioned in some published reports—is "not firm."

The satellite is to be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. into a circular orbit 750 miles above the earth.

It will be under command of ground stations at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and Puerto Rico.

Wickersham Wins Oklahoma Voting

OKLAHOMA City, (AP)—A surprising comeback by former U.S. Rep. Victor Wickersham, Mangum, highlighted Oklahoma's primary election yesterday.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr and the state's five other congressmen were nominated without runoff.

Wickersham apparently edged incumbent Toby Morris of Lawton, to win the Democratic nomination in western Oklahoma's sixth district.

With all but 3 of the 655 precincts counted, Wickersham held a 563-vote lead. The unofficial tally was 40,515 to 39,952.

Cuba Looses Envoy

HAVANA (AP) — Jose Miró Cardona, Cuba's ambassador-designate to the United States, has resigned and taken asylum in the Argentine Embassy, diplomatic sources said today.

Cardona had been waiting several months to take his Washington post. He submitted his formal resignation in a letter to President Osvaldo Dorticos.

He also resigned his post as professor of penal law at Havana University.

Rees Ordered to Baltimore for Trial

MEMPHIS (AP)—A jazz musician charged with five Maryland-Virginia murders was ordered back to Baltimore today after a brief hearing before a U. S. commissioner.

Melvin D. Rees Jr., 31, said quickly, hands clasped in his lap, during the formality of a removal hearing in which all the FBI had to do was identify him as the man named in a Maryland indictment.

He was taken immediately to a car parked in back of the Federal Building, U. S. Marshal George C. Harrison said. Rees would be driven to Baltimore. He estimated the arrival time at between noon and 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Rees will make the 96-mile trip guarded by Harrison, a deputy marshal and a special deputy. The party will drive straight through with no overnight rest.

The government's only witness was Robert J. Lally, the assistant special agent in charge of the FBI's Baltimore office. He has been a primary figure in the long investigation.

There was a brief discussion over whether defense lawyers would waive the hearing which the defense finally decided in the negative. Lally's testimony was purely identification of Rees.

Expansion of Poultry Market Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) today asked Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson to discuss with poultry industry representatives a program to develop an Italian market for U. S. poultry.

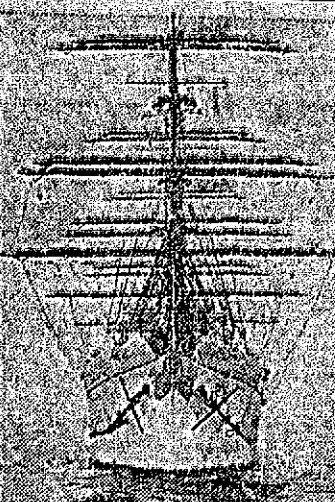

Fulbright told Benson that the industry has encountered a problem in trying to introduce its products into Italy.

The problem, he said, "is primarily one of introduction of sufficient quantities over such periods of time and under such conditions as will permit it to be marketed competitively with poultry originating from Iron Curtain sources."

Failure to promote such a market, Fulbright said, could result in forfeiting substantial opportunities. He said the Italian poultry trade has shown considerable interest in U. S. poultry and has indicated a willingness to cooperate and to invest considerable sums in any reasonable plan that does not place all the risk on the Italians.

Before he was taken away, Rees shook hands with his three lawyers and told them, "thank you for your consideration."

STRIPPED—Towering masts of Japanese training ship Mitsu Maru are as bare as a dead Christmas tree. The four-masted barque furlled sails as it docked in New York.

Under this idea the Italian trade would be offered an introductory promotional allowance to encourage it to assume the risk of purchasing and promoting U. S. poultry.

"These promotional allowances would serve to minimize the risks involved in the initial purchase and introductions of U. S. poultry," Fulbright said.

He said a similar plan was used successfully to open up a German market.

Evidence in Tax Case Is Delivered

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Attorney Sam Anderson today delivered what he says is evidence of poll tax irregularities to Deputy Prosecutor Robert D. Ridgeway on order of Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs.

Dobbs criticized Anderson for what he called contemptuous behavior and told Anderson "I'm

Under this idea the Italian trade would be offered an introductory promotional allowance to encourage it to assume the risk of purchasing and promoting U. S. poultry.

"These promotional allowances would serve to minimize the risks involved in the initial purchase and introductions of U. S. poultry," Fulbright said.

Trial of Spa Official Set in September

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Trials of former tax collector Ray Owen on two charges growing out of an alleged shortage in his office were set today for Sept. 15 and 16.

Owen today made a settlement of $1,204.16 with County Treasurer Virginia Livingston for a balance of $21,428.04 he has turned over since he resigned last February.

Owen, who has denied the charges and entered pleas of innocent, is scheduled to be tried Sept. 15 for alleged misuse of public funds.

Two other persons also were scheduled for trial on charges growing out of a widespread investigation made by the Garland County Grand Jury and the state comptroller's office into county affairs.

Trial of Mrs. George Poulas, a former Owen deputy, on a charge of receiving and converting public funds to her own use was set for Sept. 22.

Two days earlier attorney Sam Sanderson is to be tried on a charge of compounding—that is concealing—a felony.

The only trial held so far is that of suspended County Judge H. C. Warren. A jury recently found him guilty of overspending county funds and fixed punishment at a $500 fine.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs suspended the fine as the jury recommended.

Warren is appealing the conviction.

New Nation's Soldiers in Protests

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP)—About 200 soldiers of the Congo army demonstrated for several hours today in front of the infant African nation's Parliament building, demanding removal of all their white Belgian officers.

Other soldiers mutinied Tuesday night in Thysville, 75 miles southwest of the capital, and imprisoned their white officers.

The demonstrators in Leopoldville at one point roughed up the army's Belgian commander, Gen. Emile Janssen, and seized his pistol.

They finally marched back to their barracks after speeches by Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba and other government ministers.

The demonstration was confined largely to the Parliament building and the barracks. Otherwise life in the capital continued much as usual.

There were reports that the rebellious soldiers also want higher pay.

The force has no commissioned Congolese officers. It has been invaluable to the Belgians in maintaining order in this nation, where intertribal quarrelling and killing have existed for years and have flared again in the political uncertainties of independence.

The Belgian officers are remaining at the invitation of the Congo government.

putting you on guard that this court will not be used by you or anyone else for political reasons."

Dobbs and Anderson had an exchange in court yesterday before the lawyer agreed to turn over the poll tax evidence except to a grand jury.

Anderson wants Dobbs to order a grand jury investigation of his charge that bogus poll tax receipts have been issued. The executive committee of the County Democratic Committee also has suggested an investigation.

So far Dobbs has not called the jury.

He told Anderson today that the jury "can't invalidate one poll tax receipt."

Anderson is a candidate for prosecuting attorney against Prosecutor Walter J. Hebert.

He was indicted several months ago in connection with a widespread investigation of county affairs, and his trial on a charge of concealing a felony was set today for Sept. 21.

Says Hardin Once Urged Integration

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Orval B. Faubus charged today that Joe C. Hardin once "personally" urged him to integrate the Little Rock public schools.

Hardin called the statement "a deliberate lie."

Faubus previously had depicted Hardin as a sometime integrationist, sometime segregationist, but today's statement at Pocaterra was the strongest the governor has made on his score.

The four men who are trying to keep Faubus from a fourth term, in turn, have accused him of being integrationist or segregationist as circumstances dictated and that laid the background for another phase of Faubus' stump speech.

He challenged F. E. Williams to name names to back up a frequently repeated assertion that the governor early in his tenure in office instructed presidents of at least two Arkansas colleges to integrate their institutions.

Faubus didn't refer by name to Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett and Hal Millsap, Jr., his other two opponents.

At his Little Rock headquarters, Hardin had this to say of the Faubus report that the Grady planter had sought to have the governor integrate the Little Rock schools: "I haven't had any personal contact with him ever about the Little Rock schools. I can't imagine what would cause him to make a statement like that. He must certainly be desperate to tell such a deliberate lie."

Faubus and all four opponents put a busy Fourth of July of campaigning yesterday.

And at Pine Bluff, Wiley Brantley, a Negro attorney, urged members of the Arkansas Democratic Voters Assn., a Negro group, to vote against Faubus, both at the July 26 primary, and in a possible runoff.

Faubus, in a speech at Portia, charged that Williams once branded some welfare programs as "socialistic, accused Hardin of having "ties to the integration forces in Little Rock," linked Bennett with a leader of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, and declared

Former Arkansas Official Dies

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — George W. Neal, 73, Arkansas state land commissioner from 1933 to 1937, died Sunday at Venice, Calif.

A native of Pike County, he was county clerk before moving to Little Rock in 1923 to work in the secretary of state's office.

He also worked at the Capitol in latter years before retiring about a year and a half ago.

He had lived in California the past few months.

Survivors include two sons and a daughter: a brother, Sam Neal of Daisy, Pike County, and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Francis of El Dorado.

Shows Suffers Overdose of Informality

TELEVISION IN REVIEW
By FRED DANZIG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — roll up the sleeves of my lab coat, push aside some test tubes and place "Diagnosis Unknown" under my little old microscope.

My finding: This one-hour mystery-detective series, which opened on CBS-TV Tuesday night with a story called, "A Case of Radiant Wine," suffered from an overdose of informality, people, detachment and plot-pudding.

The series, a summer replacement for Garry Moore's variety hour, aims at showing how civilian pathologists, working in a well-equipped laboratory, can help the police solve sticky cases through science.

It's probably a gripping real-life occupation but in Tuesday night's show, there was too much evidence that caricatures were inserted simply to kill time, display cuteness and, I suppose, to hypothesize the story. What came out was a long, drippy funnel of molasses.

The star of the show is Dr. Daniel Coffee, played by Patrick O'Neal who sports a little leaguer's scaled Fidel Castro beard, speaks softly, ambles around with impressive authority, has a pleasing smile and a quiet sense of humor.

that oil stock sold by Millsap had declined in value.

And he's handy mit der dukus, too.

He is assisted by the pretty young lab assistant, played by Phyllis Newman; Martin Huston as a teen-ager who does odd jobs in the lab and comes on like "Kookie"; and Cal Bellini as an exchange pathologist from India named Molital Mookerji. There's also Del. Capt. Max Ritter, played with authority by Chester Morris.

These five comprise the regular cast and in Tuesday night's story, the five regulars were provided with enough material to slow down the story substantially. Five's a crowd, I'm afraid.

The cast is, however, made up of attractive performers. And the videotaped production managed to include some outdoor scenes—once in an auto-wrecking lot, then to a highway for a variation of the "chicken" game, and to a rambling suburban-type lab. This attribute of the show gave it a fresh, unusual look.

Written by Joel Carpenter and directed by Fielder Cook, the plot dealt with the death of a young play-girl, a would-be black-mailer who was found dead in her bed. Was it murder? She had lots of boy-friends. Was it suicide? The police (Ritter) call it murder and Dr. Coffee is hired to prove it was suicide. However, he soon learned it was murder and after taking us down some wearisome blind alleys, brought in the guilty party — a delicatessen owner with the soul of a poet who tired of the girl's munching a pastrami sandwich while he whispered sweet nothings to her. Rounding out the case were Tom Bosley, Patricia Barry, Murray Matheson, Millette Alexander and Larry Hagman. All performed their roles well.

It's one thing to lace mystery and suspense with humor and another to dilute the pace and potency of the story with slap-happy, aimless bits of business, no matter how off-beat it might seem. There was just too much pastry in Dr. Coffee's lab diet Tuesday night.

The Channel Swim: "The Jan Murray Show," a daytime game show, starts on NBC-TV on Monday, Sept. 5 at 2 p.m. e.d.t. "Queen for a Day" will move to a 4:30 p.m. e.d.t. starting time to accommodate the new show.

Red Skelton has cancelled a projected overseas tour that would have seen him taping shows in Tokyo and Moscow.

"Silents Please," a series presenting clips from silent film classics, will replace the vacationing Ernie Kovacs' Thursday night show on ABC-TV starting Aug. 4. Ernie's panel show returns Oct. 27.

"Drumbeater," a Western comedy series that was to have starred Tony Randall in the role of a frontier press agent has been shelved.

"The Secret of Freedom," the TV play by Archibald MacLeish that last week won awards from seven educational organizations, including the National Education Assn., is being repeated on NBC-TV Saturday, July 16, in the "World Wide 60" slot.

Russellville was named for a British-born and British-educated physician who lived there as early as 1835.

- 1 Note the large proportion of lean meat to fat and bone. We never "rob" a chuck roast of lean meat to be sold as boneless beef at a higher price.
- 2 There's bone, of course, but it's carefully trimmed. Grandma tells us that the juices which flow through the meat from the bone help give pot roasts their perfect flavor.
- 3 Just enough fat is left on a Safeway chuck roast to make sure it will cook tender, flavorful and juicy and have that rich brown color you want in your pot roasts.
- 4 It's cut from USDA Choice Beef. Only beef judged by expert U. S. government graders to be of fine-eating quality is awarded this high grade.
- 5 Like all steaks and roasts at Safeway, this chuck roast has been carefully aged to peak of tenderness.

Much Advice on Bridge, Medicine

THE LIGHTER SIDE
By DICK WEST

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The "advice to the lovelorn" column has been a newspaper staple for as long as Dorothy Dix and I can remember.

In recent years, however, the professional heart balmers have been getting some tough competition from experts in two other lines of journalistic advice-giving — bridge and medicine.

Almost anybody who can tell a spade from a club can make a living these days by writing a bridge column. And more and more of our friendly neighborhood physicians are dropping out of practice to take up syndicated medicine.

All of this is rather hard on the reader, who has to skip around all over the paper to find the solution to his particular problem. Therefore, it seems to me there is a pressing need for someone to start a new all-purpose column which would bring romance, card games and health under one tent.

Well, Volunteers Services. If no one else feels equal to the task I am prepared to volunteer my services. I just happen to have some old letters here with which to get the ball rolling.

"The other evening when I jumped to six no-trumps after a one spade response to an opening diamond, my partner turned blue in the face and keeled over. What was wrong?"

"The symptoms you described indicate that your partner had a heart attack. You should have a heart check-up."

"Last night as I was kneeling down to propose to my girl friend, I felt a pain in my left knee. She rejected me. What should I do?"

"Try bathing your knee in warm salt water and when it limbers up, propose again. If that doesn't work, try bathing your girl friend in warm salt water."

"I am madly in love with a girl. I met at a bridge tournament but we can't afford to get married. She falls down a lot and runs up big doctor bills. What do you advise?"

"Play On Floor. It might help if you played bridge on the floor. Then she wouldn't have so far to fall. About a week ago my wife trumped my ace and I knocked her teeth in. What do you recommend for cases of this sort?"

"Your wife should give up bridge until she gets a bridge for her teeth. (Watch for column on dental advice in the Sunday paper.) Meanwhile, you should give up aces."

"My husband goes out a lot at night, claiming he is playing bridge with the boys. I suspect that he is seeing another woman. This makes me have headaches. Should I take up bridge to keep him at home, or should I take something for the headaches?"

"It is often easier to 'wire a headache' than it is to learn bridge. There is no need to worry until he starts going out to play poker with the boys. Then you can be sure he is seeing another woman, and the headaches will stop."

Thinks Japs Killed U.S. Aviatix

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An Air Force officer says security officers are evaluating what he believes to be conclusive evidence that the Japanese executed aviatix Amelia Earhart.

Miss Earhart and navigator Fred Noonan disappeared in July 1937 while crossing the Pacific on protected round-the-world flight. Capt. Paul Brian Jr. said Tuesday that an Air Force officer has photographic evidence and affidavits from 72 eyewitnesses to the capture and execution of Miss Earhart and Noonan.

And said Brian, Capt. Joseph Gervais wrote him he had found, on the prewar Japanese mandate island of Saipan, "the original and only burial site of Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan."

Gervais' investigation was not an official Air Force inquiry. It was the second time in five days that unofficial investigators have claimed finding evidence that the Japanese killed the U.S. fliers. Brian is author of a book titled "Daughter of the Sky" in which he proposes a theory that the Americans landed far off course at Saipan and were expected to keep them from telling the world that the Japanese were secretly fortifying the island.

But in Tokyo a former imperial navy captain denied that such an execution occurred.

Zenshiro Hoshino was, in 1937, chief of the section of the Naval Affairs Bureau handling executions. "I absolutely deny it," he told newsmen who told him of Brian's report. "No such execution could have taken place without my knowledge and participation."
